TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist supply ships, conveyed by American warships, reached Quemoy beach today but were forced back by a heavy Red artillery barrage before they could unload the bulk of their cargo.

Associated Press correspondent Gene Kramer, in a dispatch from Quemoy off the Red mainland, said an "intense saturation shelling" forced two supply ships to withdraw after they had unloaded only a few supplies for the beleaguered Nationalist garrison.

American warships stood off at a distance, he said.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said earlier that the supply ships had returned undamaged to their Pescadore base after unloading.

This was the first attempt to run supplies to the garrison since Monday, when Communist artillery fire blew up an ammunition ship on the Quemoy beach and forced another to retreat after losing most of its cargo.

Stormy weather prevented the dispatch of convoys on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Red artillery opened up at the appearance of the convoy today after being silent 21 hours.

Jones Heads Salvation Army Here

James H. Jones

Superintendent Jimmie Jones of the Hope Public Schools was re-elected as Chairman of the Hope Service Unit of the Salvation Army at their annual meeting Wednesday noon. Sheriff elect Jimmie Griffin was selected as the vice chairman for the new term. The Unit members selected George Frazier as their Social Service Committee Chairman. Other members of this committee are the ministers of the several churches in the area with two additional members to be appointed at a later date.

The annual fund raising campaign was set to kickoff on Tuesday, October 7, with a minimum goal of $2,000 to be raised to carry on the emergency welfare program of the Salvation Army in this area.

According to Mr. Jones the local Service Unit has been unusually busy in granting emergency aid the past year. This phase of their work is under direct supervision of E. R. Brown. No deserving person was turned away and every case referred to them was handled without "red tape" or undue delay.

Other members of the Hope Salvation Army Service Unit are Guy Basso, Mrs. Cline Franks, Jim Cole, Arch. Wylie, Cline Franks, Lloyd Guerin, Mrs. Rosa Harrie, Henry Guenick, Olin Lewis, L. A. Tooley, B. N. Holt, Ray Taylor, Harry Hawthorne, Frank Hill, Rev. L. T. Lawrence, Rev. R. R. Sorensen, Rev. John McClanahan, Rev. William Harris, Rev. W. C. Land, Rev. A. D. Livingston.

Kentucky Still Has Trouble

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Three Negro students walked quietly into Pledge Elementary School today while a crowd of 100 watched from across the road. Six state troopers and two deputy sheriffs watched close by. No U.S. deputy marshals were seen. The developments were quiet through Wednesday when some 300 persons gathered at the school and attempted to keep four Negro boys from entering. Only three Negro youngsters showed up today. The fourth, who broke away during the confusion Wednesday, did not return. The student was identified as Blanche Ray Foster.

There were a few jeers from spectators across the street as the four with the Negro children pulled up five minutes before the bell rang for classes. It was quiet as the students walked in.

Two whites and two Negroes were arrested during the minor disorders Wednesday, the first in Kentucky this year.

Wants to Use the H-Bomb for Peace

GENEVA (AP)—Dr. Willard Libby said today he believes the United States can and ought to go ahead "in a cooperative way" to use the hydrogen bomb for peaceful jobs.

"And I think we will," the U.S. atomic energy commissioner told a news conference at the atom-for-peace congress.

Americans have proposed using H-bombs to blast harbors, recover oil and perhaps even create electric energy. Russia's Dr. V.M. Emelyanov objected that the American objective was political.

Ambassador to Ceylon Accepted

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Maxwell H. Gluck as ambassador to Ceylon, effective about Oct. 1.

At the time of his appointment last summer, Gluck was the center of a teapot tempest over not knowing the name of Ceylon's prime minister.

In a letter to the President, made public at his vacation headquarters, Gluck asked to be relieved because of the cumulative pressures of personal considerations. He did not specify them.

In accepting the resignation, Eisenhower in a letter to Gluck expressed appreciation "for your able representation of our government at this important post."

Gluck, 56, was confirmed to the post in June, 1957 by the Senate. Later Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) disclosed that at a private committee hearing, Gluck had been unable to name the prime ministers of either Ceylon or India and showed himself unfamiliar with a United Nations report concerning Ceylon, which Ceylon had signed.

Because of the incident, the Senate announced that public hearings would be held thereafter on the qualifications of Foreign Service appointees.

At a news conference at that time the President angrily denied that the Gluck appointment had been a reward for a large contribution to Republican campaign funds.

Gluck's own explanation was that he had known the names all along (Solomon Banderaniuk of Ceylon and Jawaharlal Nehru of India) but had hesitated to pronounce them.

Gluck is the head of the Darling Stores Co., a 140-shop merchant dising chain.

Presbytery Against Rights Bills

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A resolution opposing the proposed "Status Rights" amendment was adopted yesterday by the Presbytery of Ouachita.

The measure called the proposed amendment "a dangerous threat to basic freedom for all citizens in our state." It added that all members of the Presbytery's churches "should be informed as to the sinister character of this amendment."

The Rev. George A. Channey of Monticello said the resolution was adopted unanimously by 50 ministers and elders (lay leaders) who attended the Presbytery's 2-day call meeting at Camden. The meeting ended yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Channey said the Presbytery represents about 7,000 members of the Southern Presbyterian Church in south Arkansas. There are 60 churches in the Presbytery.

The Rev. Donald K. Campbell of Crossett was elected moderator of the Presbytery, succeeding The Rev. Roy W. Hicks of Gurdon.

The proposed amendment provides for disbarment of lawyers, disqualification of voters under certain conditions and closing of integrated public schools. It would also create a powerful Status Rights Commission which would not be subject to court jurisdiction.

Brookwood to Form a Cub Scout Pack

Brookwood PTA will organize a new Cub Scout pack tonight at the school at 7:30. Pack 93 members who attend Brookwood school are eligible to join the new group.

All youths from 8 through 10 years of age who are not in Scouts are invited to attend. The only way to determine the number of dens needed is for every boy who plans to join to be present. Parents are invited to the meeting.

Faubus to Speak at Boston Forum

BOSTON (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas has accepted an invitation to speak here Oct. 12.

State and city police say they are prepared to take extra measures to protect him from any extremist activity.

Both departments expressed the hope, however, that the precautions would not be needed. They noted that the city has a strong tradition of liberty and free speech.

Faubus will speak at Ford Hall Forum.

President Seeks Support of Far East Policy

By WARREN ROGERS JR., WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower goes on nationwide radio-TV tonight to seek more support among the peoples of America and the free world for his Far East policies.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly told newsmen at Eisenhower's Newport, R.I., summer headquarters that the President would make a major address from the White House at 9 p.m. (EST).

It will be carried live over ABC television and major radio networks, with NBC and CBS television carrying delayed telecasts at 10:15 p.m. (EST).

Hagerly said Eisenhower decided to make the talk after consulting by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles. He said the President would return to Newport Friday morning.

Two events Tuesday apparently supported what Dulles' public affairs advisers have been telling him: the U.S. public and the allies were not comprehending the why and whereof of the China crisis.

Those events were Dulles' 5-minute news conference Tuesday morning and his hour-long conference Tuesday afternoon with Australian Ambassador Robert G. Casey.

Casey, a veteran diplomat was reported to have voiced uneasiness about U.S. policies. But after an hour with Dulles and a half hour with Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary for Far East affairs, Casey pronounced himself possessed of "much more understanding."

His statement seemed to beat out Dulles' news conference comment that in time more and more allies and even more neutrals would come to appreciate U.S. Far East policy.

That policy includes support of a Nationalist China, tolerance of a Nationalist military buildup on the islands within sight of the Red-held mainland, and threatening to meet force with force if the Communists seemed about to wrest the islands from the Nationalists.

Grass Roots Farm Plan Is Under Study

OMAHA (AP)—A grass roots farm proposal which was developed in months of interviewing Nebraska farmers was on the table today to kick off a planning session of the Democratic Midwest Conference Farm Committee.

Frank Reed of Lincoln, Neb., former head of the Nebraska Production Marketing Committee, brought out the proposal.

Salient points are: withdrawal of a billion bushels of corn and a billion bushels of wheat from the agricultural inventory to set up a defense stockpile; an allotment program based on bushels rather than acreage; and a graduated price support program providing relatively high support for a limited bushels and lower supports for additional production.

The job of the committee, made up of representatives of all 13 conference states, is to hammer out a farm program it believes will win the approval of farmers, and make it available to candidates and the national committee.

Such a program could conceivably be the basis of the party's farm platform in 1960.

Attending the opening session of the three-day conference are representatives from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, North and South Dakota.

Mrs. Ruth Hoelscher of Marcelles Beauty Shop attended a Hairdressers Fashion clinic this past weekend at Texarkana. The clinic is sponsored by the NHAU, Unit 60.

Mrs. Robert Cox of Hope is the winner of a purse given by "Mr. John" perfume. One of the second prizes in the Maryland Club coffee contest held recently.

Mrs. Hamilton Hagan, Julius Adams of Hope High and Mrs. Adams of Spring Hill school are Arkadelphia attending a conference for Homemaking teachers, superintendents and principals. Similar conferences are being held throughout the state for the purpose of exchanging ideas and methods of teaching.

Mrs. Hagan will serve as one of the panelists discussing housing.

Apparently the boys who write sports in Arkansas rate the Hope Pine Bluff game here Friday night as pretty much of a loss. It was a one-point loss while many figured it was a tie.

Supreme Court Meets for Oral Arguments on School Integration

Expects Court to Rule Against Any More Delay

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus indicated today that he expects the Supreme Court to order integration if the schools in Little Rock and said, "I will not force my people to integrate against their will."

He made the statement at a news conference shortly before the Supreme Court convened in Washington.

"I will fight to preserve the rights guaranteed to the people under the Constitution," he said, "and that includes the control of the schools."

Faubus declined to speculate on the Supreme Court decision. He said, however:

"But I will say this: The NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) has gotten almost everything it asked for from the Supreme Court."

Answering reporters' questions, the governor made these other salient points:

1. Central High School can be operated on a private basis, for white students only, if the city school board wants to take such action.

2. He said he is prepared to handle disorders, should violence break out again. But when asked what steps he has taken, he said, "Just the usual steps that a chief executive always takes to have his forces ready to quell any violence or disorder."

3. He would not say, flatly that he will use newly-passed legislation empowering him to close the schools. He observed, however: "The legislature did not pass that legislation if it were not intended to be used."

4. He said there is a difference, from the standpoint of legality, between the use of Federal troops to enforce litigation and the use of armed U.S. Marshals.

Calling in troops as was done last year, the governor said, was "completely illegal." But he said "The use of U.S. marshals is a proper court measure."

He prefaced this answer by saying, "So far as the people of Little Rock are concerned, there is not a bit of difference in the world."

Faubus parried most of the questions on the ground they are "hypothetical" in asking what he will do if the Supreme Court orders integration again in Little Rock.

He said he will first study the decision, then confer with his advisers, and then take action. He indicated this might be three or four days after the decision in Washington.

He said he has had no contact with Federal authorities. Is it likely that he may see President Eisenhower again? "I don't see any possibility of that," he replied.

Asked what he might do in case a complete impasse develops between the Federal government and the State, Faubus replied: "Anything is possible under the present situation."

Referring to the legal steps that might be taken, he said, "This is a whole basketful of legislation possible. Nobody can say what basket might be opened."

Opening the conference, Faubus said he had no statement to make. He said he called the reporters "because I understand you want to ask me some questions."

Faubus looked calm and unworried throughout the conference. He answered questions readily, but put an end to them after about 40 minutes saying, "I've got a lot of work to do today."

A boy and about 50 youths last week resulted in withdrawal of 13 Negroes from Van Buren High School, 50 miles west of here.

Integration proceeded without reported incident at five other Arkansas towns—Fayetteville, Bentonville, Charleston, Fort Smith and Hoxie.

Trouble Over Integration Hits Ozark

OZARK, Ark. (AP)—A Negro pupil at Ozark High School said today that she and two other Negro girls were told not to return to classes after 10 white boys and girls tried to attack them during the lunch hour Tuesday.

The three girls were the only Negroes in the school, which has about 400 white pupils.

Ivy West, a 14-year-old freshman, said Supl. R. L. Graves gave the order after he was pushed and shoved while protecting the Negroes.

Graves refused to discuss the incident.

The West girl, Nola Kuykendall, 17, and Joan Johnson, 13, had attended classes at Ozark High since the school opened Sept. 1.

"Mr. Graves told us we should not come back because he could not protect us," the West girl said.

She said the superintendent called the three Negroes into his office Tuesday after a rumor circulated that the white gang was "going to get them" at the noon hour.

"They'd been threatening to get us for several days," she said. "And we were afraid."

"The white students tried to come in the office to get us, but Mr. Graves blocked the door," she said. "They pushed and shoved him trying to get by but he managed to keep them out."

She said there were six girls and four boys in the attacking group. She declined to identify them.

Ozark has no Negro high school. Negro pupils, until last year, were sent to schools in nearby counties.

Ozark initiated a voluntary plan of integration last fall but it was suspended two days after the term opened because of resistance by white pupils.

Two Negroes were readmitted at the opening of the second semester in January and attended the remainder of the term without a reported incident.

Ozark is the second Arkansas high school where a voluntary plan of integration has been suspended this fall because of resistance by whites.

Integration proceeded without reported incident at five other Arkansas towns—Fayetteville, Bentonville, Charleston, Fort Smith and Hoxie.

Possible Court May Rule by This Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren suggested today the real issue in the Little Rock school controversy is whether any agency of the state is preventing Negro school children from exercising their constitutional rights.

Warren tossed this in the form of a question to Richard A. Butler, attorney for the Little Rock school board, in the city's Central High School.

Warren said that, conceding the good faith of the board, was not the court's concern with whether action by the state "has frustrated the constitutional right of these children?"

Butler replied that the board felt it was entitled to be heard on its own record, adding, "We've asked the court to look at our problem in Little Rock."

Repeatedly, Butler alluded to the phrase "with all deliberate speed" used by the Supreme Court in a 1955 decision for desegregation. He argued this gave flexibility for suspension of integration in view of disorders in Little Rock the past school year.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second time in two weeks, the Supreme Court convened in extraordinary session today for argument on the great issue, racking much of the south—the removal of racial barriers in public schools.

The question was how fast the southern states must move in throwing over generations long customs of school segregation to comply with the court's 1954 decision that separation of white and Negro school children is unconstitutional.

It is possible the court may rule by the weekend. The practical situation argues for an early decision. For the specific case before the court is that of Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., which is to open its fall term Monday.

A packed court room lay before the black-robed justices. More than half of those in the spectator places were Negroes. The marble court room has seats for 177 general spectators. In addition, about 30 to 40 standees are permitted.

The choice spectator seats fell to the first comers among 164 people who were in line when the court room doors were opened at 9 a.m.—three hours before the hour for the justices to take the bench.

Among the 164 were four who had waited all night. And, at 2 a.m., there were 17 in line.

The U.S. Supreme Court convenes in a momentous special session today to decide the speed of integration at Little Rock, Ark., Central High School.

The decision may affect the lives and customs of millions of Southerners for it is expected to spell out the Supreme Court's mandate calling for desegregation in the nation's public schools with "all deliberate speed."

The question is whether the court will allow more time or Continued on Page Two

The Little Rock School Board contends resumption of integration at this time would mean a return to "bedlam, turmoil and chaos" and the destruction of the school system. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People says that threats and even open public resistance are not valid reasons for denying Negro pupils a constitutional right to attend mixed schools.

Debbie, Eddie Separate and She Is Sorry

HOLLYWOOD — Debbie Reynolds today blamed her separation from Eddie Fisher on his New York night club dating with Elizabeth Taylor.
But, she declared in a news conference at her front door: "I'm still in love with my husband."
Miss Taylor, who with her late husband, showman Mike Todd, was supposed to have been a close friend of the Fishers, said: "I don't feel that I've taken Eddie away from Debbie—because they weren't getting along, anyway."
Published accounts quoted Miss Taylor, 28, as saying: "Eddie is not in love with Debbie and never has been."
To which Miss Reynolds retorted: "We were never happier than we have been in the last year."
The formal separation of Debbie, 26, and Eddie, 30, was announced Wednesday night. Eddie went to the home of a friend, comedian Joey Forman. Miss Reynolds stayed at home with their two children.
She came to the door, wearing a robe and pin curlers, and told officials in Washington said they believed this was the first use of deputy marshals in connection with school integration.
In the North, about 60 white and Negro mothers marched on the city hall at Buffalo, N.Y., and asked the Board of Education to suspend classes in Buffalo schools for one day in sympathy with mothers in Little Rock fighting for school integration.
The mothers were members of an organization called "Mothers Alliance to Stop School Segregation." The board said it would consider their request.
In New Orleans, five additional Negro students registered as freshmen at Louisiana State University, bringing to seven the number of Negroes now enrolled. A federal district court ordered their readmission.
At Nashville, Tenn., the State Board of Education gave Memphis State University permission to deny admission of Negroes until next year.
An NAACP attorney at Van Buren, Ark., asked a federal court to order the Van Buren school board to carry out its gradual integration plan at the high school. A boycott by white pupils kept 13 Negroes away from classes at the school Friday.

Integration Legal Issue Is Narrow

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court tackles today the narrow legal issue of how fast public school integration must move ahead.
The precise legal issue is a narrow one—whether a plan of integration once in operation, may lawfully be suspended because of popular opposition to it. But the impact of the court's ruling is certain to be far reaching.
Specifically, the court will determine whether Little Rock's Central High School must readmit Negro students, whose attendance there last year brought on violence and the subsequent use of troops.
But the decision, whatever it is, will throw out guidelines to federal district judges grappling elsewhere with the vexing problem of applying the high court's 1955 command for "all deliberate speed" in integrating schools.
Any delay for Little Rock could mean more time for other areas of the Southland in their bitter stand against having Negroes and whites go to school together.
But a ruling that Little Rock is not entitled to suspend its integration program until January 1961 would be the signal for district judges in other areas to take a firmer stand on integration orders. Several judges have withheld final orders until the court rules.
There was no indication how soon the Supreme Court would rule, but a decision was generally expected by the weekend. The Little Rock school is scheduled to Richer for Not Being Marilyn?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross, a 46-year-old secretary, is $7500 richer — because she isn't Marilyn Monroe.
Mrs. Ross was behind the celebrated "wrong door" smashed Nov. 5, 1954, when four men burst into her Hollywood apartment searching for the blonde movie queen. Miss Monroe was in an adjacent apartment.
The settlement was paid by Joe DiMaggio, Miss Monroe's former husband, who was identified by Mrs. Ross in a $200,000 civil suit as leader of the raiding party.
open Monday, and the court called its second extraordinary session in two weeks to hear the case in advance of that time.
Actually, the court already has heard—and read in legal briefs—substantially what the opposing lawyers prepared to say today.
Two weeks ago the court heard the plea of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for quick removal of legal barriers to the immediate resumption of integration in Central High.
The new litigation started during the summer, when Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., granted a 15-year suspension of court-ordered integration at Little Rock. On Aug. 18, the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis reversed Judge Lemley's order, but later granted a stay to permit appeal.
The arguments two weeks ago were on making the Court of Appeals decision effective until the high court could rule. But the court delayed action on the temporary move and called for new arguments today on the merits of the case. Its decision thus will be final on the issue.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher have separated although Debbie says, "I'm still in love with my husband."
They split up Wednesday as Hollywood reverberated to rumors that Elizabeth Taylor was the cause of it all.
But Liz indicated there were some unhappy chapters in Hollywood's storybook marriage.
"I don't feel that I've taken Eddie away from Debbie—because they weren't getting along anyway," said Miss Taylor.
She slipped into seclusion. Eddie moved in with a friend, comedian Joey Forman. Debbie, after hiding out Wednesday with friends, returned to the family home.
"I am still in love with my husband," she told newsmen last Wednesday night. "I am deeply shocked over what has happened."
Reporters asked her about Miss Taylor's comment.
"We were never happier than we have been in the last year," said Miss Reynolds. "I've tried to call Miss Taylor several times in the last two days—but I haven't been able to reach her."
Debbie said the separation wasn't her idea.
"Eddie is a great guy," she said. "Don't blame him for what's happened."

DOROTHY DIX

Lady Regrets Fling With Leaping Lover

Dear Dorothy Dix:

When I married Raoul eight years ago I was sure I loved him, but it wasn't long before I realized that I had been lulled by the strong security he had to offer. One summer while vacationing with my sister, I met Terry, who literally parachuted into my life. He was a stunt man with a carnival. He thrilled me as my husband never could. When summer was over Terry got a job here in town and our love affair flourished. We had no trouble meeting since my husband always had been generous about baby-sitting while I went out. I finally realized the terrible thing I was doing against myself, my husband and the children. I broke off with Terry, who was about to start another summer tour anyway. I confessed everything to my husband, and that's where the trouble began. He's been cold as ice to me ever since. How can I regain his love and trust? — Helen J.

Dear Helen: Would you expect a beautiful white dress to be trampled in the mud and come out like new? How, then, can you expect to violate your husband's trust in you and expect it to come through shining bright? There is no chance of completely mending anything that is irreparably broken. The time for considering the effects of infidelity is before it begins; not after. The best you can expect of life now is Raoul's tolerance of you. Certainly you deserve nothing better. It's rather late for any baby tactics.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm a 25-year-old divorcee and would like some pointers on being a good wife to the man I am going to marry. I don't want to make a mess of my second marriage. He isn't divorced yet, but the action is pending. — G. G.

Dear G. G.: A marriage built on another woman's broken home is doomed to failure from the start. I could give you plenty of pointers for a happy marriage, but they all involve words like "faith" and "fidelity" which you don't seem to recognize.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm in love with a neighborhood boy, of good education and fine prospects. He's 23, a college graduate with a good job. We've been going together for several years, but just decided to become engaged. Mom didn't say anything at first, but now she's raising an objection after another — all silly. She won't let us date during the week, won't let us alone when he does come over, fusses over every telephone call and won't listen to any talk of engagements or wedding. My father objects to her interference, but she has the last word. With it all, she says she

Would Surrendered Quemoy, Matsuo

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Prime Minister Walter Nash tonight advocated "surrender" of Quemoy and Matsuo, Communist China and a neutral, demilitarized Formosa guaranteed against aggression by the United Nations. Nash told Parliament the offshore islands are historically part of the mainland.

4 States Take Brunt of Polio Attack

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Four states—Michigan, Texas, Florida and California—are taking the brunt of this season's polio attack, and late reports indicate that Detroit may be the hardest hit city.

However, overall, the United States may be experiencing a record low year for the post-Salk vaccine period.

The nation showed 2,223 cases for the 50 weeks ended Aug. 30. This compares with 3,870 cases for the same period last year and 13,711 for the average period of the years 1953-57.

But 40 per cent of the cases fell on four states. Texas had 207, Michigan had 292, Florida had 190 and California had 18 for 35-week totals.

And later figures from the National Foundation's Wayne (Detroit) County chapter showed the case load had jumped a 356—more than the whole state of Michigan reported 11 days before.

Other high states according to U.S. Public Health Service totals were: New York 111, New Jersey 110 and Ohio 9.

There have been several outbreaks of polio across the nation. Another city reporting a sizable number was Miami, Fla. National Foundation spokesmen said there were a reported 66 cases in Dade County.

The reason polio still afflicts so

Upholds Violation in Wheat Acreage

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—U.S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davis Tuesday upheld two Texans charged with raising wheat without a federal wheat acreage allotment.

The government charged that J. Evetts Haley Jr., and his father, J. Evetts Haley, planted and harvested 3 acres of wheat on a 1,600-acre farm they own in Oklahoma. It sought a penalty of $508.11.

Young Haley and his father testified that the wheat had been fed to their own livestock and had not been placed on the market.

They contended the government could not interfere with their running the farm as they saw fit. Judge Davidson said all the Halays had done was violate a rule of production and they had nothing to do with commerce.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today the Agriculture Department will fight the ruling of a U.S. district judge at Dallas freeing two Texas farmers from penalty for overproducing wheat.

Many in the nation is because so many people have failed to get their Salk vaccine shots, the National Foundation says.

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

DO YOU HUNT?

Hunting is one of the most wholesome and enjoyable of all sports. Dove season has just opened and I understand there are plenty of birds in the Hope area. Then too, a lot of us are looking forward to the duck season and the new shooting area that has been created by the new Boys D'Arc Hunting and Fishing Project. By the way, in connection with the above, there is an organization known as The Hempstead County Wildlife Club, that has a membership of over one thousand. This club is ably headed by Dub Flowers, Mack Duffie, Talbot Fells Jr. and a board of directors. These fellows are doing a good job and holding meetings each month. If you are interested in the wildlife of this area how about joining and giving it your support? Membership is only one dollar.

Look before you shoot. There may be important telephone wires and cables within range. Thank you.

PRESCRIPTION FOR PLEASURE

Your telephone by your side can be pretty good medicine, all by itself.

It's one of the best cures for loneliness. I'm thinking, especially, of those long distance calls to loved ones and old friends away from home.

And how about those easy-going conversations women enjoy during the day? When you're tired of looking at the ironing board, or when the mop starts to get a little heavy, a short telephone break — just a few minutes' chat with a friend or neighbor — really brings you back smiling.

Your telephone is more than just a convenience. There's plenty of pleasure and relaxation built into it, too, so use it as often as the mood strikes you. That's what it's there for.

SAFETY IS NO ACCIDENT

With summer vacation over for the children here in Hope we'll be seeing the familiar school buses and the small groups of children walking back and forth to their homes.

These scenes should remind everyone who drives to be extra careful. Always slow down in school zones, stop when the school bus stops, and watch out for the bicycle rider.

Although safe driving is a year-round job for all of us, telephone drivers are displaying that extra ounce of caution at this time of year. We're counting on them and you — to help keep the streets safe for school children.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

'Showcase' Home Being Built Here

Participation of the Hope Builders' Supply Company in the nationwide "Showcase of Famous Brands" model home program in cooperation with the Masonite Corporation has been announced by Jack Lowe, lumber company vice-president and manager.

Purpose of the program, according to Lowe, is to present the latest ideas in home building, improvements, furnishings, appliances and the materials and services available to local home owners and builders. Lumber dealers throughout the county are taking part in the program.

A "Showcase" model home, designed by noted Architect Rudolph A. Matern, A. I. A. around an exciting new concept, the "Living Core," will be erected and furnished by the lumber company in cooperation with other leading merchants in the community.

According to the lumber company manager, the "Living Core" consists of a foyer, living room, dining room, mud room and lavatory, kitchen and family room. It has been designed from the specific requests of hundreds of the nation's housewives as expressed at the second annual "Congress of Better Living" and from research done on the popularity of hundreds of other home plans.

"It is considered to be an arrangement most acceptable to the American way of living," Lowe says. "Beyond this area, people have their individual living requirements which vary in the number of bedrooms, baths, recreation facilities, style of house and other features. By using this highly efficient core, almost any type, style and size of home may be designed and built and its possibilities are close to limitless."

The local "Showcase" home will be a one story, slab construction with three bedrooms, two and a half baths, a laund, a double carport with an adjoining shop area. It contains about 1800 square feet of living space.

Other features include easy access from the family room and foyer to the outdoor living areas through sliding glass doors, the mud room and lavatory located at the back door so dirt won't be tracked through the home, a "U" shaped kitchen which provides the utmost in convenience for the homemaker and a fireplace separating the living and dining areas.

Exterior of the home will be finished with Roman Brick and Masohite Panelgroove.

The house will be located at South Walnut, according to Lowe. Construction has reached the roofing stage and the home should be

Nasser Confers With U. S. Ambassador

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser conferred with U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare today. The meeting was at Hare's request. Both sides declined to comment.

Hare met with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi Monday. Egyptian newspapers said he informed Fawzi of the American position on Formosa.

In a speech on Sept. 3, Nasser accused the United States of "direct aggression" against Red China.

Ready for open house the last week in September. Definite date to be announced.

Bids for River Bridge Authorized

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Highway Commission Tuesday authorized bids to be taken Nov. 26 on a new Mississippi River bridge linking this state with Helena, Ark.

The bids will be received simultaneously here and by the Arkansas Highway Department at Little Rock, a Highway Commission spokesman said. The duplicate bids will be opened at each capital at 10 a.m. and the two departments will confer after studying the offers.

The bridge will cost an estimated $1,300,000 and will be financed by the two states. Mississippi will put up one million dollars and put up the remainder in cash.

THE STORY: John Lane has his work cut out for him as foreman of the Four - Arrow ranch. The owner is Irma McKenzie who inherited the property from her father. Neighbors are threatening her ranchland.

Chapter IV

There was a stable and a carriage house in the rear of the cottage, and Lane had noticed the slim Mexican back there in the corral grooming one of the dappled grays he'd seen in front of the restaurant. The front yard was well kept, and the cottage was newly painted. A middle-aged housekeeper admitted them. Lane and the colonel both sniffed with pleasure at the smell of wild turkey meat baking in the kitchen oven. In the living room, Colonel Richards introduced Lane to Irma McKenzie's aunt, Mrs. Erwin, a buxom and brown-haired woman of about 40.

Mrs. Erwin looked Lane over closely, saying, "Irma's in the bedroom, changing clothes." Almost at once the long-legged girl came through the dining room, buckling a belt around a one-piece dress she had donned.

As she greeted Colonel Richards, Lane stared at her, for this was the girl he'd seen with Murdo Mc-chell in the restaurant. Her chestnut hair and hazel eyes were even more attractive at close range.

Colonel Richards said, "Miss McKenzie, shake hands with the man I've been telling you about."

The girl's eyes lifted to Lane's. "I was wondering about you—hoping you were John Lane." She had a firm handshake for him, but she wasn't smiling, and after she'd stepped back, she looked him over from boots to tousled blond hair, and told him, "It's hard to believe what they say about you."

"But it's all true, I reckon," Lane said, with a touch of apology in his voice.

They sat down, and Irma said, "Aunt Fay and I are planning to move back onto the ranch, Colonel."

The colonel looked at Lane. "Why not?" Lane asked. "If she intends to keep the ranch and run cattle on it, that's where she belongs."

Irma's young brow smoothed at that.

"Understand, though," Richards said to her, "that Lane's job, first of all, is rounding up your cattle—gathering me a trail herd."

"I understand that," Irma said. "He'll be working for you, not for me. But he'll serve as foreman of the Four - Arrow, won't he?"

Colonel Richards nodded. "He'll round up your envy and brand your calves. He'll do all he can to put the ranch on its feet again."

The girl bit her lip thoughtfully, sitting forward in her chair with her hands clasped around her knees. "But he won't do anything about Sorensen?"

"Absolutely not, Irma. The trouble with Sorensen is something you and Sheriff Cole will have to settle."

"But those strangers will try to kill him when he starts rounding up my cattle," the girl protested.

"Why don't you give Sorensen a deed to the Tortuga Creek land? That would end all your troubles as far as the hoemen are concerned."

The girl's well-formed face showed stubbornness and anger. "That wouldn't settle anything, because those people wouldn't be satisfied with just the land they have now. They'd keep gobbling up my range until there wouldn't be any of it left. Why, Colonel Richards, there are wagonloads of those hoemen in Twenty Springs right now waiting to squat somewhere."

The oldest shook his head troubledly. Looking at Lane, the girl asked

"What will you do if the nesters try to kill you?"

"Nothing, I reckon," the girl flared.

The girl gave the old rawhide a level look. "Colonel Richards, are you going to put up the money to try my Four - Arrow title in the courts?"

Richards shook his head. "Why should I?"

"Do the strangers have the money to sue me? Or even sufficient evidence to base a lawsuit on?"

Richards said, "I hardly think so," and tugged at his goatee.

"Of course they don't," the girl said. "And they're going to run into trouble, to when your mortgage is paid off—when I get some operating capital."

Richards said quickly, "But you'll stick by our agreement, won't you?"

"I'll have to. But I'll have you paid off one of these days, and then—"

She gave John Lane a measuring, hopeful look.

The colonel said, "That's all I ask, Irma—just give John a chance to put the Four - Arrow on its feet. After that you're at liberty to make your own decisions. You have my address in San Antonio and if you and John need me for anything, let me know. I told him to get in touch with me when he got a trail herd gathered. You and I will get together then and see how we stand. That suit you?"

"Yes, that's fair enough."

Richards moved his gaze back to Lane, but another thought occurred to him. "Irma, why can't the Mexican drive me down to the stage station now, and bring my buggy back here? John can return the rig to the stable and save me a little time."

"Whatever you say, Colonel Richards," she walked on onto the porch with him.

12 Killed in Plane Crash in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Twelve servicemen were killed Tuesday when an Air Force C-47 transport plane carrying 19 persons crashed on a runway, 100 feet off the end of the runway.

The accident happened at Elmendorf Air Force Base, a military air transport service terminal. The twin-engine craft plunged to earth only 100 feet off Elmendorf's main runway.

Eye witnesses said the C-47, on a routine courier flight to isolated posts in the huge northern territory, was making what appeared to be a normal takeoff.

At 800 feet, however, the big craft apparently stalled, veered off to the right and then crashed.

The seven survivors, all treated at the Elmendorf AFB hospital and all reported in satisfactory condition, were identified by the Air Force as: Capt. Robert L. Taylor, Lt. Col. William W. Cowan, Capt. H. J. Schwartz, Capt. R. G. Maynard, SSGT L. D. Arner, A3C W. J. Paul and A3C Ernest M. Conner, all stationed at Elmendorf AFB, Fairbanks. Their home towns were not available.

The names of the 12 killed were not released.
